All information regarding the principles of processing and protection of personal data by Us is available at Our website. In all matters related to the protection of personal data, it shall be possible to contact us at the mailing address, e-mail address and telephone number for requests and enquiries concerning personal data indicated in the OANDA TMS Information Sheet.

4. The Framework Agreement is entered into subject to positive verification of Your data by Us, including without limitation, verifying Your identity and identity of Your beneficial owners and representatives, in each case in accordance with applicable anti money laundering and counter terrorist financing laws. Upon positive verification, the Framework Agreement comes into force.
5. If (i) the verification is unsuccessful or (ii) the verification is not completed for reasons unattributable to Us within 90 days, the Framework Agreement shall be deemed not to have been entered into and your data shall be processed in accordance with the Privacy Policies made available on Our website.
6. The entering into the Framework Agreement shall result in the opening of an Account.
7. Within the scope of the freedom of contract, We reserve the right to refuse to enter into a Framework Agreement, in particular in cases where the provision of brokerage services would be contrary to the Act or other generally applicable provisions of law.
8. Until a positive verification of your data and all your representations has been obtained and an assessment of appropriateness and target markets has been carried out, your Account may be blocked.

§5 Identification data necessary to enter into the Framework Agreement

1. Before or after the conclusion of the Framework Agreement and before we provide you with an Account, You must provide Us with your identification data, data that allows Us to establish and verify Your identity and data that We use to contact You. We must also, where appropriate, verify this data against supporting documents or other information from an independent source.
2. If you are a legal entity, we must also establish and verify the identity of the persons representing you and your beneficial owners (including the ownership structure of the legal entity or organisational unit).
3. We reserve the right to make the entering into the Framework Agreement conditional on the submission of additional information not specified above or documents supporting such information. In particular, we may request that You make a verification transfer via your bank account for the purpose of your verification. In the event that (i) the verification process is unsuccessful or (ii) the verification has not been completed within 90 days, We will refund to You all cash transferred to Us in the same amount and currency to the bank account from which they were transferred to Us. The refund will be made within 7 days of the date on which either of the above circumstances occurs.

§6 Assessment of appropriateness of service and products and target markets

1. Before allowing You to place orders with Us, as well as during regular updates, We shall be obliged to verify: (i) whether You have experience in and knowledge of investing in the financial market, (ii) Your financial situation, including Your capacity to bear losses, (iii) the investment objectives, including sustainability objectives and level of acceptable risk. The motive for conducting the appropriateness assessment and an assessment of target markets is to enable Us to act in Your best interests. To this end, we shall submit a questionnaire for you to complete in order to assess the appropriateness and target markets (groups).
2. The questionnaire consists of questions relating to Your knowledge and experience in investing, and include items to the extent appropriate to the nature of the Client, the nature and extent of the service to be provided, and the type of product or transaction planned, taking into account their complexity and associated risks.
3. As a result of Our appropriateness assessment, We may determine that, for You, the service and products are:
 - 1) appropriate, or
 - 2) inappropriate.
4. Where we determine that the products or services are inappropriate for You, we may provide services to You, but we shall advise You that the service may be inappropriate for You because it involves risks that are inappropriate for Your level of knowledge or experience and that Transactions involving Financial Instruments carry a risk of significant loss in the event of adverse changes in the price of a Financial Instrument or Underlying Instrument and we shall provide services to You at Your request, subject to Your acceptance of the warning.
5. You shall be informed of the outcome of the assessment as soon as the appropriateness assessment questionnaire is completed. After receiving the score, You should confirm the received score in writing, by return receipt or via email communication.

6. Once We have determined which Target Market You belong to, We shall provide You with information in this regard.
7. The Target Markets to which You are assigned may change, in particular if the information You provide in the questionnaire changes or the rules for determining the Target Markets change.
8. As a result of Our target market assessment, We may determine that the services We offer are not appropriate for you due to your knowledge, experience or risk tolerance. If this is the case, We shall be forced to refuse to provide brokerage services to You.
9. You should bear in mind that financial markets, Financial Instruments, Underlying Instruments and other phenomena affecting dealings in Financial Instruments are subject to dynamic changes and therefore the appropriateness and target market assessment must be monitored by You and Us on an ongoing basis. If You discover that the information You have provided has changed, e.g. Your knowledge or experience has changed, inform Us immediately.
10. We shall have the right to rely on the information provided by You unless We are aware or should be aware that such information is definitely out of date, inaccurate or incomplete.
11. We may also ask You to complete the appropriateness and target market assessment questionnaire again.
12. The assessment of the compatibility of the Client's characteristics with the Target Market for Financial Instruments serves to fulfil the obligation set out in the Act and You should not treat it as investment advice or recommendation.

§7 Client classification and reclassification

1. As a general rule, We classify You as a Retail Client.
2. In addition, if You have your habitual residence or registered office in the territory of the Republic of Poland, You may apply (upon Your written application) to be granted the status of Experienced Retail Client under the category of Retail Client – this only applies to Accounts in the CFDs service variant.
3. In order for you to become an Experienced Retail Client, you must meet all of the conditions set out in the OANDA TMS Brokers S.A. Client Categorization Policy.
4. Clients to whom we grant the Experienced Retail Client status shall be reviewed by us at least once every 12 months to verify that they continue to meet the conditions referred to in Clause 3 above.
5. The detailed rules for granting the Experienced Retail Client status are set out in the Client Categorisation Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A. available on our website under the "Documents" tab.
6. We will classify the Clients indicated in Article 3(1)(39b) of the Act as Professional Clients.
7. In addition, based on Your application, We may classify You as a Professional Client (which will result in a reduction of Your protection) only if You meet the conditions set forth in the Client Categorisation Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A. on our website under the "Documents" tab.
8. Before the application referred to in § 7(7) is granted, you shall be informed of the rules on the treatment of Professional Clients in the provision of brokerage services.
9. We may only accept the application referred to in § 7(7) if You submit a written declaration that You are aware of the terms of Our treatment of Professional Clients and the consequences of treating You as a Professional Client.
10. If We have classified You as a Professional Client, You may at any time apply to Us to be reclassified as a Retail Client.
11. The Retail Clients benefit from the broadest scope of protection, while the Professional Clients are considered to have a high level of knowledge about financial markets and products and to be able to independently assess the investment risk. Therefore We offer them a narrower scope of protection.

§8 Data recording

1. Your activities in the Trading System shall be recorded. This shall apply in particular to the time of Your logs as well as Orders placed, modified, and cancelled. The history shall cover a period of at least 12 months.

In the case of selection of certain mediums indicated in the Table of Fees and Commissions, a fee may be charged in the amount specified in the Table of Fees and Commissions.

§9 Remote identification

1. In the course of cooperation, You may place instructions and Orders remotely.
2. You shall use Your access data (i.e., logins, passwords, and one time passwords sent to Your email address or telephone number) to authenticate such remote Orders and instructions.
3. For telephone instructions and Orders placed through telephone instructions, the identifier shall be Your first or last name or the name of the Client You represent and the telephone password that is defined in the process of concluding the Framework Agreement and may be changed by You. Alternatively, we may use a one time password sent to Your email address or telephone number to authenticate you during a phone call. In the case of reasonable doubts about the identity of the person placing the Order or a telephone instruction, We may request additional data to verify it.
4. You will receive a login and password to place Orders through the Trading System. When You log on for the first time, You will be asked to change the password. You may also change this password at any time in the Trading System (not applicable to mobile and browser versions) after logging in to this System. All orders and instructions placed with the use of Your identification data, including one time passwords sent to Your email address or phone number, shall be treated as authorised by You (subject to § 9(7) - § 9(9) and the liability limitations and conduct rules set out therein). We have no reason to refuse to execute any such order.
7. We shall not be held financially responsible for the consequences of your disclosure of your credentials or email account or phone device to third parties.
8. Save for the provisions of this §9, You are responsible for the consequences of all orders and instructions executed by Us based on valid identification data, so remember to protect Your credentials.

6. The changes You make will apply with respect to all of Your agreements.
7. Updates that do not pass verification will be rejected by Us and have no effect.

8. Updates will be registered by Us without undue delay.
9. We shall not be liable for any damage You may suffer as a result of Your failure to update the data if Your failure to do so was not caused by Our fault.

You may also grant the power of attorney in the presence of Our employee.
3. In addition to the power of attorney to enter into an Agreement, You may also appoint a proxy to place Orders and instructions arising from the Framework Agreement (one-time agreements).
4. Applicable law requires us to verify the identity of Your proxy. For this purpose, we will request the relevant documents confirming the details of the proxy.
5. A proxy for concluding an Agreement may not appoint themselves as a proxy for placing instructions and Orders, unless this derives directly from the content of the power of attorney.
6. The provisions relating to You shall apply mutatis mutandis to the proxy.
7. The template of the power of attorney to place instructions and Orders resulting from the concluded Agreement is available at Our website under the "Documents" tab. All you need to do is complete and send us an electronically signed document or a scan of a hand-signed document. You may also notify Us by telephone of the granting of such a power of attorney. We reserve the right to verify the notification of the granting of a power of attorney through additional contact by e-mail, telephone or the need to confirm the proxy's details after logging in to the online access channels.
8. You may not allow other persons to access Your Account or use Your login credentials, unless You appoint them as Your proxies in accordance with this section.

2. Remember that if You are in doubt about the characteristics of products and services, You can contact Us for clarification. We may also be able to help you understand the Contractual Documentation. However, You should not treat such clarifications as a recommendation to buy or sell or refrain from buying or selling any Financial Instrument.

3. When providing recommendations of a general nature, We will take due care to ensure that such information is presented objectively.
4. When making recommendations of a general nature, We do not take into account the individual needs and situation of a given investor. Investments and services presented or included in a general recommendation may not be suitable for a particular investor and, therefore, if in doubt about such investments or investment services, We recommend consultation with an independent investment advisor. 6. Please note that all actions We take in the Trading System, insofar as they are covered by these Terms and are motivated by a desire to keep You safe, are aimed at protecting Your funds from loss. Due to the complexity of the Trading System, the risks associated with it and the Financial Instruments, We may not always be able to keep You safe and protect You from loss, hence You must be aware that we will not acknowledge Our responsibility if we have acted in the best faith to protect Your funds. You may not, however, require Us to accept responsibility for the protection of Your funds if the loss resulted from open Positions or Positions that were closed but not cleared (not subject to Settlement) or other acts or omissions that were of Your own volition and We had no valid and serious reason to interfere with the Trading System and the authority to interfere did not arise directly and directly from the legal grounds described in these Terms and Conditions.

Chapter IV. CFDs service variant

Information: Transactions involving CFDs are executed by Us entering into a CFD Transaction directly with You, which gives rise to a Conflict of Interest. For a detailed description of Conflicts of Interest, see § 74 of the Terms and Conditions and the OANDA TMS Information Sheet.

§20 General Rules

1. This Chapter shall only apply to Accounts maintained under the CFDs service variant.
2. We shall execute orders in CFDs by entering into Transactions for Our own account with You, to which You agree by signing the Framework Agreement.
3. The Execution Venue for CFD Orders is Us, but We do not operate a Trading Venue.

§21 CFD quotations

1. The Quotations available in Our Trading System may be Quotations created by Us based on information from Quotation Sources (processed data).
2. Quotations available on Our Trading System may also include Quotations directly from Quotation Sources. In such a case, You shall have the right to request from Us information about the Quotation originating from the Quotation Source along with its data under these Terms and Conditions.

3. Detailed rules for the creation of Quotations for individual Financial Instruments are set out in the Best Execution Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A.
4. If We reasonably believe that You are entering into Transactions in bad faith with the intention of using erroneous Quotations, or are using investment strategies that are inconsistent with the principle of equality of parties under the Framework Agreement with the aim of exploiting a technological or information advantage, We reserve the rights described in § 28(5), § 71(1) and §71(3)-(5).
5. You shall have the right to withdraw from a Transaction in a CFD, whose Underlying Instrument is listed on a Trading Venue, if the Transaction has been executed at a price at which, on the Trading Venue, the Transaction would not have been executed (the Transaction has been entered into outside the maximum spreads specified by the Trading Venue), respectively in accordance with the principles set out in § 28(5) of the Terms and Conditions.
6. Request for price – we shall respond to your enquiry by means of a request for price; in the request for price, you indicate the material terms of the Transaction, in particular such as the Financial Instrument, the denomination of the Transaction and the party to the Transaction. In response to Your request, we shall provide You with information on the price at which we are able to execute the Transaction. Once you have received Our offer, You may accept or reject it. In accordance with the Best Execution Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A., Your acceptance of the price shall not guarantee the execution of the Order.
7. We offer a fixed or variable Transaction Spread. In the case of a fixed transaction spread, its target value has been defined in the Specification of Financial Instruments, subject to the provisions of § 21(8).
8. Transaction Spreads, including fixed Transaction Spreads, may expand beyond the value determined in accordance with §21(7):
 - 1) outside local market hours for the Financial Instrument,
 - 2) when above-average exchange rate fluctuations occur,
 - 3) when there is limited liquidity in the Financial Instruments,
 - 4) in connection with major economic and political events affecting the market,
 - 5) on public holidays in the local market for the relevant Financial Instrument,

We may introduce periodic interruptions to trading in cryptocurrency-based CFDs during trading hours to perform maintenance on the technical IT infrastructure that is used to accept and execute orders. We shall notify you of planned trading disruptions via email well in advance or via an announcement on Our website under the "News" tab.
11. The CFD quotation must not show a negative value (price). Consequently, this means that you may not place Pending Orders with a negative price. In the event that an Underlying Instrument, which is quoted in a Trading Venue, reaches a negative price in the market on which we base Quotations, we will suspend trading in the relevant CFD until further notice and at the same time close all open Positions in that CFD in your Account at the most recent non-negative price. A negative CFD price must not be equated with a negative result on the Position (loss on the Position).
12. If you have the status of a Professional Client, we can provide individual terms for the conclusion of Transactions upon your request, once you have met the individually specified requirements.

§22 Financial Instruments

1. All CFDs on which we execute Orders are specified in the Financial Instruments Specification.

 - 2) for a long Position – decreased by the value of the quotation points by which the current price quoted in the Trading System has decreased, maintaining a fixed difference between the current price and the defined profit value denominated in quotation points, and the Trailing Stop will be executed when the price increases by the defined profit value denominated in quotation points, subject to Clause 4.
4. A Trailing Stop Order shall only be available for submission, modification and cancellation in the installation version of the MT5 access platform to the Trading System. The Trailing Stop Order remains active as long as You are logged into the MT5 Terminal online channel (installation version). If You log out of the Trading System (installation version) (provided You have previously activated the Trailing Stop), the Order shall be automatically converted to a Stop Loss Order at the most recent price of the active Trailing Stop Order.
5. A Trailing Stop Order cannot be placed, modified or cancelled by You via a written or telephone instruction.
6. A Trailing Stop Order may not be modified more than once every 10 seconds.
7. Only one Trailing Stop Order may be set per Open Position or Pending Order.
8. If there are several Positions with Trailing Stop Orders on the same symbol, the Trailing Stop Order shall be processed as follows: when the price arrives on Your MT5 Terminal platform in the installation version, only the Trailing Stop Order for the most recently opened Position shall be processed. If another price appears for the same symbol within 10 seconds, the Trailing Stop Order the next Position (opened as the penultimate one) shall be processed. If, on the other hand, the next price appears on Your MT5 Terminal platform in the installation version after 10 seconds, the Trailing Stop Order for the most recently opened Position shall be processed again.
9. Trailing Stop Orders shall not be available via a web browser (Web MT5 Terminal version) and via platforms allowing access to the Trading System on mobile devices.
10. When placing a Pending Order, a minimum distance from the current market price may be required. You may check the current minimum distance from the current market price in the Trading System.
11. You can also place "market" orders using the "One-Click" functionality.
12. You may only place or modify orders during the trading hours of the respective CFD, with the exception of orders on CFDs for which the Underlying Instrument is a stock or ETF, which may not be modified, subject to § 21(10).
13. Orders shall have the following expiry dates:
 - 1) GTC – Good Till Cancelled,
 - 2) GTD – Good Till Date,

The default expiry period is "Good Till Cancelled" (GTC) – unless you indicate otherwise, this is the expiry date the order shall be assigned.
14. Pending Orders may be deleted in the following situations:
 - 1) Stop out;
 - 2) Rollover;
 - 3) failure to comply with the requirements necessary to conclude the respective Transaction;
 - 4) closing the Account;
 - 5) Corporate Events;
 - 6) after the CFD which is the subject matter of the Order has been removed from the offer;
 - 7) after the CFD that is the subject matter of the Order has been transferred to the "close only" mode.
15. In certain reasonable cases, such as Corporate Events, we may notify You that You need to modify the Pending Orders yourself, as well as Our cancellation of the Pending Orders.

16. Upon Your request, we may prepare and provide You with information on the current status of the Order execution (applicable to Pending Orders).
17. Your Order should contain the following parameters:
 - 1) the Client's name,
 - 2) first and last name of the person placing the Order, if the Order is placed by a person acting on Your behalf,
 - 3) Account number,
 - 4) the date and time of placing the Order,
 - 5) the direction of the transaction (buy/sell),
 - 6) the type of the Order,
 - 7) the name of the Financial Instrument that is the subject of the Order,
 - 8) the volume (denomination) of the Transaction that is the subject of the Order,
 - 9) activation price - in the case of a Pending Order, the price at which You wish the Order to be activated (note that We shall not guarantee execution at the price You specify),
 - 10) determination of the expiry date of the Order,
 - 11) a specific designation to distinguish the Order being submitted from other Orders,
 - 12) signature – for a written Order.

In the case of Orders submitted electronically, some of the above parameters are filled in automatically.

§24 Opening of Positions

1. A Position in a CFD shall be opened by the execution of an Order.
2. The opening of a Position in a CFD represents the creation of rights and obligations associated with the ownership of the CFD.
3. By opening a Position, You are opening yourself to the market and FX (currency rates difference) risks of a CFD quoted in a currency other than the currency in which Your Cash Account is held. We have explained these risks and their potential consequences in the Risk Characteristics and description of the financial instruments.
4. The opening of a Position in a CFD and the maintenance of that Position may involve fees as set out in the Table of Fees and Commissions and the Terms and Conditions. We publish actual calculations of Swap Points for your convenience on Our Website under the "News" tab.
5. Unless otherwise specified in the Contractual Documentation, you have the ability to open opposite Positions in CFDs.
6. Opposite positions in CFDs, although entered into for the same value and on the same CFD will have the following effects:
 - 1) We will charge separate Swap Points for the Long Position and separate Swap Points for the Short Position,
 - 2) You will be exposed to the risk of widening of Transaction Spreads (We measure Your long and short Positions separately),
 - 3) You will be exposed to the FX risk (conversion of your result in an open Position into the Base Currency of your Account).
7. To execute an Order to open a Position or accept a Limit Order (applicable to CFDs based on equities and ETFs only), You must ensure that Your Order is covered by cash, which means that You must have Free Cash in the Operational Register in an amount not less than the Margin required to secure that Position or Limit Order. When We execute an Order to open a Position in a CFD, You are aware and agree that Free Cash, without any prior notice to You, will be allocated to Margin.
8. In the event that the amount of Margin required to execute an Order to open a Position in a CFD exceeds the amount of Free Cash recorded in the Operational Register, the Order will not be executed by the Trading System. Pending Orders (not applicable to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) may be placed and accepted by the Trading System. Verification of the cover of this Order takes place at the moment it is transmitted for execution after the fulfilment of the specific conditions set out in the Order (in particular the appearance of the price defined by the Client). In the event that the amount of Margin required for the execution of this Order exceeds the amount of Free Cash recorded in the Operational Register, this Order is cancelled and automatically deleted from the Trading System, therefore no Transaction will be concluded.
9. A Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) may be placed and accepted by the Trading System when the amount of Margin required to accept this Order does not exceed the Free Cash Amount recorded in the Operational Register. Verification of the coverage of this Order takes place at the time of its submission. The update of the cover of this Order takes place immediately after its execution in whole or in part. In the event that the amount of Margin required to accept this Order exceeds the amount of Free Cash recorded in the Operational Register, this Order will be rejected.

§25 Closing of Positions

1. The closing of a Position in a CFD represents termination of the rights and obligations associated with the ownership of the CFD and results in a change in the Exposure and a change in the Margin Requirement.
2. The closing of a Position in a CFD is made by You indicating the selected open Position(s) in the CFD recorded in the Register of Financial Instruments and then placing an Order to close the indicated Position(s) in the CFD in whole or in part, or indicating opposite Positions in a CFD and linking them for Settlement.
3. If the denominations of the CFD Position(s) being opened and closed differ, only a partial closing of the CFD Position(s) shall take place, up to the amount of the smaller Position.
4. Opposite positions can be closed using the "Close by" function (except for positions in CFDs for which the underlying is an equity or ETF).
5. Your Positions in CFDs may be closed by Us upon the occurrence of the following events, either without undue delay upon publication of information of their occurrence, at the time of their occurrence or without undue delay thereafter (although, acting in Your best interests, We will close the Positions in CFDs at the earliest practicable moment):
 - 1) if You exceed the exposure limits referred to in § 26;
 - 2) reaching the "stop-out" referred to in § 33(11);
 - 3) withdrawal of a certain CFD;
 - 4) the occurrence of events defined as Exceptional Circumstances, provided that their effects are irreversible for the CFD in question or last or will last for at least 10 calendar days and make further holding of Your Position impracticable;
 - 5) the closure of our hedging position by the liquidity provider as a result of Exceptional Circumstances;
 - 6) Corporate Event – a merger of the issuer of the Underlying Instrument (in the case of CFDs based on equities and ETFs) and equivalent events;
 - 7) termination of the Framework Agreement;
 - 8) other events arising from the Terms and Conditions or the EMIR Regulation or the Act on Anti-Money Laundering and Countering the Financing of Terrorism.
6. Where a Position is closed due to the withdrawal of a CFD, the closure shall be effected at the last price determined in accordance with the Terms and Conditions and the Best Execution Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A. and if this is not possible, due to the occurrence of an Erroneous Quotation, the closure shall be effected at the last price received by Us from the liquidity provider. The closing price of a Position in the cases described in this Clause may be zero.
7. As a result of closing a Position, Settlement will happen without undue delay on Your Cash Account and in Your Register of Financial Instruments.
8. Where the financial result of a closed Position is denominated in a currency other than the Base Currency of the Account, the result shall be converted into the Base Currency of the Account at the Exchange Rate applicable at the time the result is Settled.
9. The closing of a Position may involve charging fees as set out in the Table of Fees and Commissions under these Terms and Conditions.

§26 Exposure limits

1. We may set exposure limits in individual CFDs or groups of CFDs or in respect of Your entire Exposure or individual Accounts.
2. The current values of exposure limits are displayed in the specification of a CFD in the Trading System, unless they are specified in these Terms and Conditions or in Specification of Financial Instruments. Unless defined in the Specification of Financial Instruments, the amount of Exposure Limit for a given CFD is equal to the Volume Limit for that CFD.
3. There are the following types of limits:
 - 1) Volume Limit – Your maximum aggregate value of Positions and Pending Orders on a single CFD in one direction (e.g. for a long position) in a single Account;
 - 2) Exposure Limit – the maximum amount of Exposure You are allowed to have open in a CFD or group of CFDs (e.g. oil-based CFDs) in all of Your Accounts and Accounts of Your Associated Persons;

- 3) Limit of Open Positions – the maximum number of open Positions You can have in your Account at any given time (pending orders are included along with open Positions). Once the Limit is reached, the Trading System shall prevent You from placing both new open position orders and pending orders;
 - 4) Total Limit – the maximum value of all Your open Positions across all Your Accounts in all service variants, in all CFDs and other derivatives, including Your TMS Direct and TMS MiniDirect accounts.
4. We set out the value of the Total Limit referred to in §26(3)(4) above in Appendix 6 to the Terms and Conditions.
 5. We shall calculate the value of the positions for the purpose of calculating the Total Limit referred to in §26(3)(4) above by, successively: (1) calculating, for each CFD and each financial instrument in which We are the counterparty to the transaction, separately, the sum of the nominal value of Your Positions in that financial instrument, (2) adding the absolute values of the sums calculated in this manner for all the financial instruments for which the calculation has been made, in the Accounts within the meaning of these Terms and Conditions and in the investment accounts maintained for You in other service variants.
 6. You are required to monitor Your exposure, including, in particular, continuous monitoring of Exposures in all of Your Accounts in order to ensure that You do not exceed the limits set out in §26.
 7. If We determine that You have exceeded the Volume Limit or Exposure Limit, We will close Your Position in the relevant CFD in whole or in part (up to the exposure limit) without further notice to You. Closing will be done starting from the largest value Positions; the date the Position was opened takes second priority – We will start closing from the earliest open Positions.
 8. Where the Volume Limit or Exposure Limit is reduced by Us, We will not close the Open Position which did not exceed the limits when You opened it. However, You will not be able to open a Position or increase the value of Your Position, until the Position value has been reduced to the new applicable limits.
 9. When We find that You have exceeded the total limit set out in §26(3)(4) above, We will close or reduce Your position in the CFD or other financial instrument in which We are the counterparty. We shall first close or reduce the positions You opened last, provided that in doing so We will only take into account the financial instruments that are within the trading hours at the time the limit was exceeded.
 10. Once the closing referred to in §26(7) or §26(9) has taken place, We will notify you thereof by email or via the Trading System.
 11. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary above, in the event of Exceptional Circumstances, for newly opened Positions, We may limit Exposure Limits below the levels set out in the Specification of Financial Instruments and the Terms and Conditions. Notice of such limitation will be available on the Trading System prior to placing an Order.

§27 Algorithmic mechanisms

1. In the Trading System, we may make available to you the ability to place Orders on the basis of algorithmic mechanisms provided that any parameters regarding the algorithm have been specified by You.
2. Algorithms created by You referred to in §27(1) may lead to concluding Transactions without Your involvement when the conditions specified in the algorithm are met.
3. You shall use the mechanisms referred to in §27(1) and §27(2) at Your own risk and responsibility.
4. In the event that You use Your algorithmic mechanisms, We shall not be liable for Your losses or lost profits in connection with the execution of Orders using such algorithmic mechanisms. In such circumstances, We shall also not be responsible for any failure to execute Orders, any delay in execution, any failure to generate Orders, or any erroneous generation of Orders using the algorithmic mechanisms uploaded by You.
5. We do not have access to Your algorithms and therefore do not guarantee any particular financial result on trades executed using algorithmic mechanisms.
6. Transactions executed with the use of algorithmic mechanisms are treated by Us as Transactions ordered by You.
7. We shall not be liable for any errors related to the operation of the algorithmic mechanism or the execution of Orders generated by the algorithmic mechanism.
8. In order to enter into Transactions using algorithms, you may not:
 - 1) use external data sources, in particular quotations, prices, rates, data related to the time of the quotation, quotation provider and other price parameters,
 - 2) change the values of price, time, quotations, spreads, limits and any other parameters of the Financial Instruments quoted by Us,

- 3) change the settings, parameters and other features of the Trading System and the Financial Instruments, in particular the values associated with the valuation of open Positions, the value of the Cash Account Balance, the Operational Register Balance, the Register of Financial Instruments, the value of Swap Points, the trading hours, the timing of Rollovers,
 - 4) interfere in any other way with the Trading System as well as the characteristics and parameters of the Financial Instruments for any purpose other than placing Orders based solely on the trading parameters and the Trading System as defined by Us.
9. Your placing, deleting or modifying of Orders using algorithmic mechanisms shall be treated as Orders and instructions placed by you.
 10. You may not modify the Orders referred to in §27(1) by submitting a written instruction or a telephone instruction.
 11. It is not possible to run automated strategies in the web and mobile versions.
 12. We shall be able to disconnect you from the possibility to enter into Transactions using algorithmic trading at any time if We have a reasonable suspicion that the Orders you place may adversely affect Our Trading System and the trading venues where the Underlying Instruments of the CFDs offered by Us are listed.

§28 Quotation errors

1. Price Quotations in the Trading System derived from Quotation Sources may contain errors in the price level as it existed in the market at the time Your Order was executed. Such erroneous Quotes arise for reasons for which We are not responsible and over which We have no control.
2. We shall make every effort to ensure that such situations occur as rarely as possible, but due to the unpredictability of such events, You must be aware that events of this nature are possible even when working with reputable Quotation Sources.
3. You should be aware that We shall not be liable for errors in Quotations arising for reasons beyond Our control.
4. In certain circumstances the Quotation specified in the Trading System may contain errors due to a reduction or loss of liquidity in the relevant market, the occurrence of unusual price fluctuations, the occurrence of other circumstances defined as Exceptional Circumstances or the occurrence of technical errors in the transmission of data obtained from the Quotation Sources (hereinafter "Erroneous Quotation" or "Erroneous Price"). The following situations shall be deemed to constitute a Transaction concluded at an Erroneous Price:
 - 1) A CFD Transaction was concluded at a price that deviated from the price presented by two Reference entities, one of which was also the Quotation Source from which the price used to quote the given CFD in the Trading System was derived, by more than the value specified in the Specifications for Financial Instruments for a specific Financial Instrument in the column "quotation tolerance".
 - 2) A CFD Transaction whose Underlying Instrument is listed on the Trading venue was concluded at a price that deviated from the price presented by one Reference entity at the moment when the conditions for executing an Order in the Trading System were met, by more than the value specified in the Specifications for Financial Instruments for a specific Financial Instrument in the column "quotation tolerance".
 - 3) The organised market where the Underlying Instrument being the basis for the CFD Quotation is quoted cancels the Transactions which were the basis for the CFD Quotation or the Underlying Instrument quoted on the organised market which is the basis for the CFD Quotation has been suspended and You have entered into a Transaction with Us in a CFD based on that Underlying Instrument already after its suspension.
5. If any of the circumstances referred to in §28(4) occur, both We and You shall have the right to:
 - 1) change the transaction price (the price of the CFD) at which the Transaction was entered into with the prior consent of the other Party (where a change in the transaction price shall also be deemed a change in the posting to the Cash Account reflecting such change in price); or
 - 2) withdraw from a Transaction, whereby if You cancel a Transaction which closes an Open Position in a CFD, that Position shall either be re-opened (if the withdrawal is made on the same day as the Transaction) or the balance in Your Cash Account shall be adjusted (if the withdrawal is made on a subsequent day to the date of the Transaction) and You risk incurring greater losses or activating a "stop out" mechanism. Please note that this may result in a negative balance on your Cash Account as a result of the withdrawal from a Transaction closing a Position, when Settlement would take place at a later time.
 - 3) withdrawal from Transactions entered into with the funds earned on Transactions which were withdrawn from - if You would not have had sufficient funds in your Account to enter into the Transaction had it not been for the funds earned on the Transaction that has been withdrawn from.

6. If a Transaction is entered into on the basis of an Erroneous Quotation as a result of an event described in §28(4)(3), We will not be able to proceed with the actions described in §28(5) after the lapse of 60 minutes from the suspension of quotations of the Underlying Instrument by the trading venue.
7. In the event of the occurrence of the events referred to in §28(4), the notifying Party shall notify the other Party immediately, but no later than within 2 Business Days from the day of the conclusion of the Transaction, informing about the type of the event that occurred, the Transactions in respect of which the Party has the rights set out in §28(5) and the type of the remedy selected pursuant to §28(5), subject to the provisions of Section 8 below.
8. In the event that, after the occurrence of an event as described in Section 4 above, our notification of the right to change the transaction price (the price of the CFD) would lead to crediting your Cash Account, we may inform you of our right to change the transaction price and credit your Cash Account with funds in the amount resulting from the change in the price. Your lack of objection within 2 Business Days of the date of crediting your Cash Account shall constitute consent as referred to in Section 5, point 1) above. This also applies to situations in which more than one Transaction was concluded at the Erroneous Price, and the sum of the price changes of individual Transactions would lead to crediting your Cash Account.
9. In Exceptional Circumstances, the time limit referred to in §28(7) above may be extended up to 14 calendar days.
10. A change in the transaction price (CFD price) at which a Transaction is concluded, as referred to in §28(5)(1), shall have the effect that the Transaction will be deemed to have been concluded at the newly designated price at the original time of its conclusion.
11. Withdrawal from a concluded Transaction, referred to in §28(5)(2), shall have the effect that the Transaction will be deemed not to have been concluded. In such a case, We shall make the appropriate entries in the Register of Financial Instruments and in the Operational Register to restore the status that existed prior to Your entering into the Transaction. At the same time, in case of withdrawal from the concluded Transaction, the Parties shall have the right to cancel the pending Orders related to the Transaction from which the Party has withdrawn.
12. The notification referred to in §28(7) shall be made in at least one of the following manners:
 - 1) by telephone in the same manner as that for placing telephone instructions, or
 - 2) by sending a letter by courier or registered mail, or
 - 3) electronically to the e-mail address provided by the Party;
13. The right of withdrawal from a Transaction does not exclude contractual liability (e.g. liability for breach of contract).
14. We shall be liable for Erroneous Quotations if the damage You suffer is due to circumstances resulting from Our wilful misconduct or gross negligence. We shall not be liable for damage incurred as a result of a Transaction based on an Incorrect Quotation in the event that You deliberately use the Erroneous Quotation.
15. If there are reasonable grounds to conclude that:
 - 1) You are entering into transactions in bad faith, with the aim of taking advantage of Erroneous Quotations,
 - 2) You are exploiting an information advantage, or
 - 3) You are entering into transactions that were intended to have a corresponding effect on the price quotations of financial instruments that You desire (in particular, when entering into transactions with a significant volume in conditions of reduced liquidity of the financial instrument),

- We reserve the right referred to in §28(5). In such a case, the withdrawal from the Transaction referred to in §28(5) shall not require the prior consent of the other Party. The provisions of §28(6-11) shall apply mutatis mutandis.
16. The rules for verification of Erroneous Quotations set out in §28(4)(1) are set out in the Best Execution Policy of OANDA TMS Brokers S.A.
17. If an OANDA Group company that is a Quotation Source cancels concluded Transactions or makes any other adjustments that will affect Your Account balance, We shall reflect those changes in Your Account and You shall be notified immediately.

§29 Short selling (applies only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs)

1. We shall make it possible for you to engage in short-sale Transactions in CFDs based on equities and ETFs.
2. In the case where:

- 1) the rules applied by a trading venue operator, liquidity provider or regulator on short selling of a CFD or Underlying Instrument change,
 - 2) legal standards for short selling change,
 - 3) the Liquidity Provider withdraws the possibility of short selling for the respective CFD or Underlying Instrument,
 - 4) the Liquidity Provider withdraws the ability to hold the Short Position or requests the return of the Underlying Instruments,
 - 5) a particular Underlying Instrument becomes difficult to borrow due to circumstances beyond Our control (low liquidity, high borrowing costs).
- We shall close Short Positions in your Account in order to close Short Positions in our hedging account (Our account with a liquidity provider).
3. We shall notify you of the numbers and closing date of the Short Positions in one of the following manners:
 - a. by telephone,
 - b. via email.
 4. The closing of a Short Position, as defined above, shall not require your prior consent.
 5. A detailed list of CFDs for which short selling is possible is available directly in the Trading System. The availability of short selling of CFDs based on equity prices and ETFs may be limited depending on market conditions. Changes in the availability of short selling may take place immediately and shall be reflected in the Trading System.

§30 Valuation (Clearing)

1. Valuation (Clearing) of open Positions in CFDs consists of Our ongoing and continuous determination of Your receivables and liabilities on each of Your Positions in CFDs opened in the Operational Register, until the Position is closed.
2. The valuation of Positions in CFDs shall take place in the Operational Register, separately for each of your open Positions.
3. Valuation shall be carried out based on the Clearing Rates available in the Trading System in accordance with the following rules:
 - 1) long Positions are valued at the bid price,
 - 2) short Positions are valued at the ask price.

§31 Settlement

1. Settlement shall take place upon:
 - 1) opening a Position,
 - 2) closing a Position.
2. Settlement upon the opening of a Position in a CFD shall consist of debiting the Cash Account with the amount of the commission charged in accordance with the Table of Fees and Commissions.
3. Settlement upon the closing of a Position shall consist of crediting or debiting the Cash Account with the amount of the result on the Position being closed and crediting or debiting the Cash Account with any debits or credits shown in the "swap" column in the Trading System (e.g. Swap Points accrued for holding the Position) and in the "commission" column, as well as posting changes to the entitlements to Financial Instruments in the Register of Financial Instruments.
4. Adjustments may also be posted as part of the Settlement.

§32 Collateral for claims arising from Transactions in CFDs

1. By entering into the Framework Agreement You agree to provide collateral to Us by transferring to Us, together with each opening of a Position in a CFD, ownership of a portion of the cash accumulated in the Cash Account, in the amount of the Required Clearing Funds, determined by the Valuation (the current value of the Position).
2. The collateral referred to in §32(1) shall be established at the latest at the time the Position is opened and continue until the time of Settlement of the Transactions in CFDs. This collateral serves as security for Our future monetary claims against You arising from the Settlement of the Transactions in CFDs entered into under the Framework Agreement.
3. The complete release of the collateral referred to in §32(1) shall only be possible when all the Positions in the CFDs are closed.

4. For the purpose of establishing the collateral referred to in §32(1), not less than once on a Business Day, We calculate:
 - 1) the value of the Required Clearing Funds,
 - 2) the value of the Received Clearing Funds,
 - 3) the value of the Margin Requirement,
 - 4) the Unrealised Position Value.
5. In addition to the consent referred to in §32(1), under the Framework Agreement You agreed at any time to change the amount of the collateral as a result of the calculations made by Us in accordance with §32(4), including a change in the amount of cash transferred to Us with each opening of a Position in a CFD, which may occur prior to the Settlement of Transactions in CFDs entered into under the Framework Agreement.
6. The collateral referred to in §32(1) is established in the Base Currency of the Account. The value of the Required Clearing Funds and the value of the Received Clearing Funds are denominated in the Base Currency of the Account. The value of the Margin Requirement and the value of the Unrealised Position Value, if denominated in a currency other than the Base Currency of the Account, shall be converted into the amount denominated in the Base Currency of the Account at the Exchange Rate.
7. If, after calculating the values set out in §32(4), it appears that the value of the Required Clearing Funds is greater than the value of the Received Clearing Funds, We shall have a claim against You to provide cash in an amount equal to the difference between the value of the Required Clearing Funds and the value of the Received Clearing Funds. In such a case, you are required to make the appropriate deposit to the Cash Account without undue delay.
8. If, after the calculation of the values set out in §32(4), it appears that the value of the Required Clearing Funds is less than the value of the Received Clearing Funds, We shall transfer cash from Our own account to the Cash Account in an amount equivalent to the difference between the value of the Required Clearing Funds and the value of the Received Clearing Funds.
9. We shall have the right to claim the collateral referred to in §32(1) if, at the time of Settlement of a Transaction in CFD, the Cash Account does not contain an amount sufficient to Settle the Transaction in CFD. We shall notify You of the expiry of the claim for the return of the collateral referred to in §32(1) by posting relevant information in the Operational Register that the Unrealised Value of your Position in the CFD is 0.
10. If, as a result of the Settlement referred to in §32(9), there is a liability due that exceeds the value of the collateral referred to in §32(1), a negative balance (debit) shall be recorded on the Cash Account. You shall be obliged to repay the resulting liability without undue delay, if such debit is not protected by negative balance protection in accordance with these Terms and Conditions.
11. If you have the status of a Professional Client and you are not a natural person, Our claims arising from the CFD Contracts concluded with You, including fees, commissions and other benefits in connection with such contracts, may be subject to immediate set-off (deduction) by Us against Your claim, including those that are subject to the collateral referred to in §32(1), pursuant to the Compensation Clause. The set-off made on the basis of the Compensation Clause can also be made when the claims are not due.
12. If you have the status of a Retail Client or you are a natural person, Our claims arising from the CFD Contracts concluded with You, including fees, commissions and other benefits in connection with such contracts, may be subject to immediate set-off by Us against Your claim, including those that are subject to the collateral referred to in §32(1), in accordance with the rules of civil law.
13. By making the set-off referred to in §32(11):
 - 1) the net amount resulting from the calculation of Our and Your reciprocal claims shall be payable to the Party whose claim or sum of claims is higher;
 - 2) the claim for payment of the amount referred to in §32(13)(1) is due also if the claims subject to set-off were not due.
14. By making the set-off referred to in §32(12):
 - 1) the net amount resulting from the calculation of Our and Your reciprocal claims shall be payable to the Party whose claim or sum of claims is higher;
 - 2) the claim for payment of the amount referred to in §32(14)(1) is due also if only the claim of the deducting party is due.
15. We shall be entitled to set off claims relating to the CFDs concluded with us on the basis of the Compensation Clause without prior notification to You of the intention to do so and without Your instructions.

16. The set-off referred to in §32(12) shall be made by Our declaration to You. The declaration shall have retroactive effect from the time the deduction became possible.
17. We may set off mutual claims on the basis of the Compensation Clause and the set-off referred to in §32(12) in particular in the event of a full or partial closing of Positions and the Settlement of Transactions.
18. The collateral referred to in §32(1) is established to enable the provision of the service under the Framework Agreement and the Terms and Conditions.

§33 Margin

1. The acceptance or execution of Your Order in a CFD shall be subject to the establishment of security for the execution of the Transaction in the form of Margin.
2. We collect Margin from You in respect of the Transactions in CFDs You enter into, in order to secure future settlement.
3. In addition, We shall collect Margin from You in respect of Limit Orders placed in CFDs based on equities and ETFs to secure the execution of the Trade that opens the Position.
4. Margin is posted in the Base Currency of the Account that You have specified.
5. Margin is calculated based on the following formula:
Nominal value of the Position/of the Limit Order (applies to CFDs based on equities and ETFs only) * Margin Rate * Exchange Rate.
For purposes of calculating nominal value of Position for the formula described above we use aggregate absolute value of (the larger of) short or long Position on a given CFD.
6. The Exchange Rate determined at the time the Position is opened and used for calculating the Margin Requirement shall remain unchanged until the Position is closed, regardless of market changes. The Exchange Rate determined at the time a Limit Order is accepted (applicable to CFDs based on equities and ETFs only), and used for calculating the Margin Requirement, shall remain unchanged until that Order is executed regardless of market changes.
7. The Margin Rate may change in accordance with the values set by Us in the Specification of Financial Instruments. The revised Margin Rate shall apply to all Orders and Positions existing and newly accepted/opened.
8. Please note that You must maintain an adequate level of Required Clearing Funds in each Cash Account under the CFDs service variant in the amount necessary to cover your liabilities under your Transactions.
9. When the Margin Level drops to 100% or lower, we will notify you by changing the colour of the lower bar in the Trading System in the installation version. This is when you receive a margin call (call to increase the Margin Level). The opening of a new Position or the acceptance of a Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) shall generally be possible when the level of Free Cash is positive and the price level of the newly opened Position or Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) is sufficient to cover the Margin.
10. There is a special case where it will be possible to open an opposite Position in a CFD when the Margin Level is at value of 100% or lower. This shall be the case when, as a result of opening a new opposite Position in a CFD or placing a Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs), the total Margin for all open Positions in that CFD is not greater than the Margin for all open Positions in CFDs and Limit Orders (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs), on the same CFD before opening a new opposite Position or placing a new Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs).
11. When the Margin Level reaches or falls below 50%, We will be forced to cancel one or more Limit Orders (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) that are not currently in execution, requiring the largest amount of Margin, or close one or more of Your Positions in CFDs in whole or in part, in order to increase the Margin Level (stop-out mechanism).
12. The operation described in §33(11) will be executed starting with the Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) that generated the largest Margin Requirement, provided that the relevant CFD is available for trading. If the Margin Level does not rise above 50%, the subsequent pending Limit Order (applicable only to CFDs based on equities and ETFs) will be cancelled. Pending orders that do not require Margin will not be deleted. In the absence of Limit Orders on CFDs based on equities and ETFs, the operation shall be executed starting from the Position that generated the largest loss, provided that the CFD on which the loss was generated is available for trading (in particular, it is during trading hours).
13. The operation described in §33(12) will continue until the Margin Level returns to 50% or more.
14. In the event that the balance of the Cash Account is negative, We may charge interest for each day of shortfall at the rate set out in the Table of Fees and Commissions, unless Your Account is covered by negative balance protection in accordance with these Terms and Conditions. We shall be entitled to deduct this interest from the balance of Your Cash Account.

15. You should monitor the Margin Level as frequently as possible. We also recommend the use of mobile access channels to the Trading System in order to keep track of the Margin Level and avoid the application of the stop-out mechanism.

§34 Accrual of CFD financing costs

1. Open Positions in CFDs generate financing costs. The purpose of these costs in particular is to reflect the cost of money needed to keep Your Position open over time, reflect the costs related to use of leverage of Your Account.
2. Settlement of financing costs happens by accrual of Swap Points.
3. Deviations from the standard rules of accrual of Swap Points may occur due to circumstances beyond Our control, for example public holidays in the underlying market.
4. The detailed rules for the calculation of financing costs are set out in Appendix 2 to the Terms and Conditions – "Rules for the calculation of CFD financing costs".
5. The provisions of this §34 shall apply to the CFDs referred to in Appendix 2 to the Terms and Conditions.

§35 Rollover of CFDs based on futures

1. For CFDs quoted based on futures, the underlying contract will be rolled over when the current contract is close to expiry. An open Position on a CFD based on a futures contract not closed by the end of the day on which the series of that contract changes is subject to the process of Rollover.
2. Rollover involves accruals of the basis differential (the contract price of the new series less the contract price of the old series). These accruals shall be presented in the Register of Financial Instruments in the "swap" column. The costs resulting from the Rollover shall be set out in the Table of Fees and Commissions.
3. A change in the series of a contract, which is the Underlying Instrument for a CFD based on a futures, entails a change of the underlying instrument price. A change in the price of a CFD for which the Underlying Instrument is a contract from a subsequent series shall only take place after trading in the relevant CFD has resumed. As a result, gaps are visible on the charts.
4. In connection with the Rollover, We shall not change, cancel, modify Your Orders and in particular the parameters of such Orders. As a result of the Rollover, Your open Positions in CFDs may be closed (stop-out, stop-loss), especially in the situations described in § 25(6), so be sure to monitor Your Accounts carefully.
5. If you have limit and stop Orders on a rolled CFD based on a futures contract close to the current price, adjust them to the updated prices of the new Underlying Instrument and adjust the amount of cash in Your Cash Account to a level that allows You to hold the Position in the CFD after the accrual of the base differential (the accrual of the base differential shall be made during the break in trading of the Rolled CFD, which may lead to the execution of a stop-out order on CFDs available for trading during the Rollover).
6. We shall notify You of the date of the Rollover on Our website in the Rollover Table. These dates may change due to low liquidity or high volatility in the market of a given Underlying Instrument.
7. The value of the accrual resulting from the base differential will be indicated in the Register of Financial Instruments until the Position is closed.
8. Indicative accrual rates resulting from the base differential shall be made available on Our website on the day of the Rollover. Indicative rates are due to the fact that the base is subject to change until the end of trading in the instruments, so it is not possible to determine the exact base during the session.
9. The value of Swap Points accrued during the Rollover of a CFD based on a futures contract shall be subject to adjustment by the spread (maximum) or by a smaller value than that resulting from the spread on the instrument.
10. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to the Rollover of all CFDs indicated in the Rollover Table.
11. The Rollover of CFDs based on futures described in this section happens independently from the accrual of financing costs for these CFDs, provided that such financing costs have been specified in Appendix no. 2 to these Terms and Conditions.

§36 Equivalent of Corporate Events

1. The CFD price reflects the impact of Corporate Events that occur on the Underlying Instrument. This implies in particular that:

- 1) If, for example, a company in the spot market pays a dividend, We shall reflect the same flow on Our CFD. If You do not close Your Positions by the end of the Trading Day on which the dividend entitlement on the Underlying Instrument is determined, Your Cash Account shall reflect an equivalent (in a positive way if You have a Long Position in a CFD or in a negative way if You have a Short Position in a CFD) that corresponds to the dividend, provided that the flow from holding long positions shall be adjusted by the equivalent of the tax on dividends. The flows resulting from the dividend equivalent and dividend tax equivalent on a CFD based on a spot index shall depend on the weighting of the relevant equity to which the Corporate Event relates in the spot index.
 - 2) If a company issues subscription rights on the first day of listing of an Underlying Instrument without subscription rights, the equivalent value of the subscription rights shall be reflected in Your Register of Financial Instruments.
 - 3) If a company carries out a split or reverse split of the shares constituting the Underlying Instrument for the CFDs recorded in Your Account, the volume (Position size) of the CFDs in Your Register of Financial Instruments shall change in a manner that corresponds to the event in the Underlying Instrument. In the event that the volume of CFDs in your Register of Financial Instruments is indivisible by the reverse split factor, the indivisible part of the Position shall be closed and Settled automatically.
 - 4) In the case of other Corporate Events of a pecuniary nature, We will endeavour to take into account the equivalent of the material economic aspects arising from such events through appropriate entries in Your Accounts.
2. Equivalentents resulting from Corporate Events shall be recorded in the Register of Financial Instruments in the "swap" column or Settled directly in the Cash Account.
 3. Equivalentents arising from Corporate Events shall apply to both long and short Positions.
 4. Information on the accrual of equivalentents resulting from Corporate Events shall be presented on Our website under the "News" tab.

§37 Operational risk mitigation (EMIR)

3. Failure to report a Discrepancy regarding the Key Terms of the Transaction or the value of the portfolio margin within the period referred to in §37(2) shall mean that the Counterparty unconditionally confirms the Key Terms of the Transaction and the value of the portfolio margin.
4. If all Transactions opening a Position are confirmed in the manner referred to in §37(3), the Counterparty's Portfolio shall be deemed to be reconciled within the meaning of Article 11(1)(b) of the EMIR at the time the last of the confirmed Transactions is entered into.
5. We shall carry out an analysis of Portfolio Compression possibilities at least once every six months. The analysis of the Portfolio Compression possibility shall be carried out as long as the Counterparty has at least 500 positions open.
6. Portfolio Compression shall involve the pooling of open Positions of the Counterparty. Specifically, Portfolio Compression shall involve closing multiple Open Positions in a Financial Instrument based on the same Underlying Instrument and then opening a single Transaction in the net denomination of the Position prior to Portfolio Compression. We shall charge the fees indicated in the Table of Fees and Commissions for performing the Portfolio Compression.

7. We shall initiate contact with the Counterparty each time before attempting Portfolio Compression. The Portfolio Compression shall be subject to the consent of the Counterparty. Refusal to consent to Portfolio Compression must be reasonably justified by the Counterparty.

 - 3) an indication of the Transaction and the Key Terms of that Transaction or the value of the portfolio margin in respect of which the Counterparty has identified a Discrepancy;
 - 4) the Counterparty's estimate of the value of the Key Term of the Transaction or the value of the portfolio collateral that the Counterparty believes should be included in the reports provided by Us in the Trading System.
11. Information on Discrepancies that does not meet the specifications set out in §37 will be identified and handled as a complaint in accordance with the respective provisions of these Terms and Conditions.
12. We undertake to verify the Counterparty's reservations referred to in §37(8) within 5 Business Days of the Discrepancy Date.
13. In the event that the Discrepancy is not resolved within the time limit referred to above, both the Counterparty and Us undertake to notify our respective management bodies of the subject matter of the Discrepancy and that the Discrepancy has not been resolved. The management bodies shall endeavour, acting in good faith, to resolve the Discrepancy within the next 10 Business Days.
14. If the Discrepancy is still not resolved by that date, We shall terminate the Counterparty's Transaction to which the Discrepancy relates. The Counterparty agrees to this by accepting these Terms and Conditions.

 - 2) bankruptcy of the Depositary or a third party, which may lead to a smaller value of the guaranteed funds due to the legal provisions introducing limits determining the maximum value of the funds of the Clients of such an entity in the event of its bankruptcy. The value of the guaranteed funds may be limited, pursuant to the provisions in force, to the proportional share of the value of Financial Instruments belonging to individual Clients in the value of all Financial Instruments registered in the given collective account,

Chapter VI. Maintenance of the Account – Cash Account, Operational Register and Register of Financial Instruments

Information: The Cash Account is used to handle Your assets with Us — it is the account where Your deposits come in and from where We make Your withdrawals. We shall also use this Account to post the results on your Transactions.

§51 Cash Account

1. In order to make it possible to execute Orders, We shall open an individual Cash Account with Us for You.
2. Only You may be the owner of the Cash Account.
3. The Cash Account shall be used for:
 - 1) handling Your deposits and withdrawals in the form of transfers and remittances – it is not possible to credit the account in cash,
 - 2) Settlement of Your Transactions – the opening and closing of your Positions generates flows, the result of which We is posted to the Cash Account,
 - 3) charging commissions for the execution of orders and other fees under the Table of Fees and Commissions,
 - 4) crediting or debiting of interest,

- 5) disclosure of the value of Clearing Funds,
 - 6) other asset flows as the Parties determine.
4. You are required to maintain a cash balance at the level necessary for the Clearing of the Transactions, i.e. to ensure that the balance always allows for the collection of the Required Clearing Funds (applicable to Accounts in the CFDs service variant).
 5. We may maintain Cash Accounts for you in different currencies. Please note that the currency of Your Cash Account affects Your risk in respect of the final clearing of Positions because the Transaction is Settled automatically in the Base Currency of the Account.
 6. The rules of interest on funds deposited in the Cash Account are set forth in the Table of Fees and Commissions. The interest earned by Us by depositing Your funds with the Bank, to the extent that it exceeds the interest due to You, shall constitute Our remuneration for the maintenance of the Cash Account and shall be used to improve the quality of the services We provide.

§52 Account

3. Under special circumstances, it may happen that there is a negative balance (debit) on your Cash Account as a result of the Settlement. If you are a retail client, We will make an adjustment to Your Account by adjusting the closing prices of the Transactions in CFDs so that after the adjustment the balance in Your Cash Account will be 0 (in words: zero). If you are a professional client, as of 1 June 2025, We will not adjust Your balance and You are liable to Us for all negative balance that appeared on Your Account.
4. If there are any discrepancies between Our legal obligations towards You and entries or records on Your Account, we may remove or modify these entries or records without asking for your consent.
5. Alternatively to the rights specified above, if You receive anything from Us without a legal basis or become enriched without a legal basis (unjustified enrichment) towards Us, We may set off Our claim towards You by making a relevant entry on Your Account.

You may submit a request to close Your Account in one of the ways described in paragraph 1 above, provided that You have closed all Your Positions and withdrawn all funds from the Account You wish to close. We reserve the right to carry out additional identity verification upon receipt of such instructions.

For such changes the deadline to inform you in advance of the changes shall not apply.
 4. Important Reasons shall entitle us to make changes to a single Financial Instrument if they relate only to that Financial Instrument. 2. We may also terminate the Framework Agreement with immediate effect if it is no longer possible to continue to provide You with the services covered by the Framework Agreement due to a change in legislation.
3. If You do not execute any Transactions in Your Account within 24 months and You do not hold any cash or Financial Instruments in Your Account during that period, We may close Your Account without sending a notice of termination of the Framework Agreement, based on this clause. In such a case, upon Your request (made in writing, in person, by telephone or by email), We shall provide You with the history of Your Accounts and the Transactions and other operations carried out on such Accounts, electronically or in writing, on a one-off basis, at no additional charge, notwithstanding the fees provided for in the Table of Fees and Commissions.
4. You shall have the right to terminate the Framework Agreement with immediate effect in the event of changes to the Contractual Documentation by sending Us a notice of termination of the Framework Agreement before the changes take effect.

1. As of the date of termination of the Framework Agreement, all Accounts which We have held for You under the Framework Agreement will be closed. In case of a partial termination of the Framework Agreement, all Accounts which We have maintained for You within the scope indicated in the notice will be closed. In the event of partial termination of the Framework Agreement to the extent not covered by these Terms and Conditions, the provisions of the other relevant terms and conditions for the provision of the respective service variant shall apply (if We are also providing services to You under the Framework Agreement on the basis of other terms and conditions).
2. Before the end of the day on which the Framework Agreement terminates, You should close all Your Positions or, if possible, give Us instructions to transfer the Financial Instruments to Your account held by another firm, and give instructions regarding the funds stored in Your Cash Account. In the event of partial termination of the Framework Agreement, you should carry out these actions to the extent that the Framework Agreement was terminated.
3. If You fail to do so, then:

In the event that you provided more than one bank account in the same currency for withdrawals, we reserve the right to select the bank account to which we will make the refund at our sole discretion.
 - 3) if we have any doubts as to the validity of the bank accounts you have provided, the funds will be transferred to a segregated non-interest bearing bank account which is not covered by the Compensation Scheme and the guarantees of the Bank Guarantee Fund and we will ask you to submit a withdrawal instruction.
4. You are able to place a written withdrawal instruction to Us at any time.

2. If We are reliably informed of Your death (in particular, if a third party provides Us with Your death certificate), the Framework Agreement shall expire on the date specified as the date of Your death. In this case, We shall close Your Accounts and all open Positions in CFDs in Your Accounts immediately upon receipt of the above information.
3. Your heir or other inheritor (provided that they present documents proving their inheritance rights) shall be able to give instructions for the withdrawal of Free Cash, not constituting a Margin, which was recorded in your Account, as well as instructions for the sale or transfer of Financial Instruments other than CFDs to an account maintained by another entity. For this purpose, they shall use the instruction template available on Our website under the "Documents" tab.
4. The expiration of the Agreement shall not extinguish Our claim for payment of the amount of the negative balance if such balance existed in Your Cash Account. We may claim this payment from You or from the persons entitled (e.g. heirs and other inheritors) to manage Your assets. Until all accounts and registers held by Us for Your benefit (i.e. the Register of Financial Instruments, the Operational Register, and the Cash Account) are closed, We may charge and collect the fees and commissions due in accordance with the Table of Fees and Commissions.
5. We shall be entitled to give Your heirs and other inheritors a 14 day period to place the instruction referred to in §73(3). If such instruction is not placed within the specified period, We shall be entitled to dispose of the Financial Instruments that were registered in Your Account within 30 Business Days at the current market price at a time selected by Us during that period. If We do not dispose of the Financial Instruments within the above mentioned 30 Business Day period, We shall be entitled to dispose of the Financial Instruments at a later time while the amount to be withdrawn will be as if we sold the Financial Instruments at the highest price within the above mentioned 30 Business Day period.
6. We shall charge standard commissions and other transaction fees and costs, including currency conversion costs, in connection with the procedure described in §73(5), in accordance with the current Table of Fees and

The provisions of the Polish Act of 5 July 2018 on Succession Management of a Natural Person's Business and Other Facilitation of Business Succession shall then apply.

Appendix 2 – Rules for the calculation of CFDs financing costs

Below you can find the rules for calculation of CFDs financing costs. The final calculations of Swap Point values are available on an ongoing basis through the electronic access channels of the Trading System and on Our website under the "News" tab.

1. Financing costs for each CFD shall be calculated separately for long and short Positions, at least once a week on Monday and subsequently published on Our website in the Swap Points Table. To reflect the market conditions We may make more frequent changes in the event of significant changes in interest rates on loans and deposits on the interbank market.
2. We will make available to You the Swap Points Table on Durable Medium if additional markups related to financing costs are applied for individual CFDs.
3. Financing costs are charged for the entire day (or whole days). Financing costs for Saturday and Sunday for CFDs listed in the table below are charged in advance. This is due to the need to secure financing for Your Positions over Saturday and Sunday. If you close your Position earlier, it is not possible to refund the financing costs that were already charged.
4. The maximum amount of mark-up on interest rate when calculating financing costs is set out in the Table of Fees and Commissions applicable under the relevant service variant.
5. The values of the accrued financing costs are recorded in the Register of Financial Instruments in the "swap" column.

When financing cost-related Swap Points are accrued
CFD underlying asset	Moment of accrual of financing cost-related Swap Points	Accrual of financing cost-related Swap Points for Saturday and Sunday

Procedure to be followed in the event where a benchmark materially changes or ceases to be provided

1. Benchmarks are provided by benchmark administrators who are independent of OANDA TMS. Details of how a particular benchmark is provided are published by the relevant benchmark administrator. The benchmark administrator may, under the rules set out in Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds and amending Directives 2008/48/EC and 2014/17/EU and Regulation (EU) No 596/2014, materially change or cease to provide the benchmark. OANDA TMS shall provide detailed information in this regard upon request.
2. If an event occurs that results in a material change of the benchmark or its cessation, OANDA TMS shall, as of the date on which the use of the existing benchmark becomes impossible, use a replacement benchmark under the rules set out in items 3 to 6 below.
3. Insofar as a replacement benchmark is designated by law, OANDA TMS shall first apply this benchmark under the terms of the law.
4. In the absence of the designation of a replacement benchmark by law, OANDA TMS shall use the replacement benchmark designated by the Designating Entity as the replacement benchmark. The Designating Entity is defined as: (i) the benchmark administrator, (ii) the supervisory authority over the benchmark administrator, (iii) the central bank, (iv) the working group set up to identify a replacement benchmark.
5. If no replacement benchmark is designated by the Designating Entity, OANDA TMS shall apply a replacement benchmark that best corresponds to the time cost of money, in particular taking into account the costs that OANDA TMS incurs in issuing financial instruments, hedging its own position, providing and maintaining the funding capacity necessary to issue the financial instruments for which the benchmark applied.
6. In the situation indicated in items 3 and 4 above, OANDA TMS may apply an adjustment spread to the replacement benchmark if indicated by law or by the Designating Entity.
7. In the situation indicated in item 5 above, OANDA TMS may apply an adjustment spread calculated as at the date of the material change or cessation of a benchmark as the median value between the benchmark and the replacement benchmark indicated by OANDA TMS, calculated over the 12-month period preceding the material change or cessation of the benchmark, to the replacement benchmark.
8. OANDA TMS shall inform clients of the replacement benchmark and how it will be applied by amending this document at least 14 calendar days prior to such change.
